

WASHINGTON SUMMARY JUDGMENT

After an oral argument, James Horne and Carl Forsberg successfully won a summary judgment motion finding, as a matter of law, that the policy exclusion for “bodily injury” or “property damage” which is “expected or intended” by any “insured” was clear, unambiguous, and enforceable and precluded proof of an “occurrence” within the policy’s meaning. Judge Evan Jones granted the declaratory judgment relief and found that our client could withdraw its defense of the named insureds in an underlying lawsuit in Whatcom County Superior Court.
